Few businesses go for long without being exposed to the increasingly complex practice of creditors rights and bankruptcy proceedings. We help guide our clients through the complications of financial distress of their customers, vendors, lenders, partners or investors.

Jones & Keller represents Bankruptcy Trustees, lenders, borrowers, creditors' committees and asset purchasers in all phases of informal workouts and loan renegotiations as well as general reorganizations and liquidations. Our creditor clients include numerous banks, oil field supply companies, brokerage firms, freight companies, franchisees, factoring companies and various other industrial and commercial concerns. Our broad experience in the relationships between bankruptcy, labor, corporate, regulatory, securities and tax law permits us to offer knowledgeable guidance in an increasingly complex and pervasive area of practice.

We also provide representation in all phases of bankruptcy litigation, including fraudulent conveyance, relief from stay of proceedings, preference and avoidance litigation, valuation hearings, and bankruptcy appeals.
